

Community Engagement

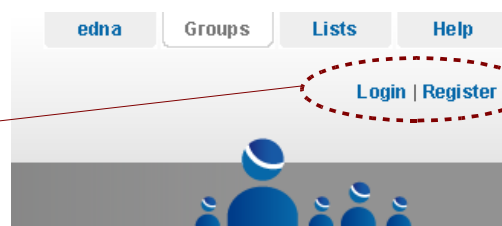

Projects: Communication and Support

How to find your way in for the first time

The "EdNA Groups" area houses many groups and networks, including the support area for your Community Engagement projects.

The main link is this: <http://groups.edna.edu.au/>
On the front page, you'll see (Top Right) a couple of links:

Login | Register

If you've never been to any of these groups, you'll need to Register first.

Please write down your new user name and password, somewhere safe :-)

Create a new username and password to log in with:

We are updating our system and from 2005 you will need to use your email address as your username. Register with your email address as your username now.

Username:

Password:

Please supply some information about yourself:
(Note: your email address must be a real one)

Email address:

Email (again):

First name:

Surname:

City/town:

Country:

Once you've registered, you can get to our ACE Connects group with this Direct Link: <http://snurl.com/alaedna>

(which is a shortened version of this Link:
<http://www.groups.edna.edu.au/course/view.php?id=390>

You'll need to get your email (the one you've registered with), and open a "confirmation email" message, before gaining access.

You'll also need an "Invitation Key", which is "elearn".

Welcome aboard.

Browse EdNA Groups

Adult and Community Education
Early Childhood Education
Education and Training - General
Higher Education
School Education
Vocational Education and Training

You can also browse other groups, from the front page of EdNA groups.

ace research Search groups

For example, the Flexible Networks area in EdNA Groups is full of relevant Discussion.

<http://snipurl.com/net06> or

<http://groups.edna.edu.au/course/view.php?id=40>

Australian Flexible Learning Framework

supporting e-learning opportunities

ALA e-learning communities - support place.

A huge welcome to the brave souls embarking on this journey, to bring e-learning to your communities, and learners into the digital era. This place is for sharing, collaboration and building

